Second anniversary of Functor Network 🎉

Chun Ding • 9 Aug 2025

Today marks the second anniversary of Functor Network — a blogging platform for mathematicians!

Achievements Over the Past Two Years

- Users: 1k → 3k
- Posts: 370 → 1,281 (including drafts)
- Feedback received: 49 (40 processed)
- Updates released: 16

What's Coming Next

First half of the year I'll continue refining the platform, focusing on two main goals:

- Enhancing our Notifications module, which is currently quite basic
- Adding a donation feature for users who wish to receive support from their readers

Second half of the year As the platform becomes more mature and stable, I'll shift my attention to promotion. If possible, I'd like to experiment with limited commercial ads — since Functor Network is a passion project, I simply don't have enough time or energy to manage promotion alone while also handling development and maintenance.

If you'd like to see Functor Network grow, here's how you can help:

1. Spread the word — share the platform with people who might enjoy it, giving them another option. (We've included a promotional image you can use.)
2. Support financially — we opened a donation channel via Ko-fi a week ago. Your contributions will help cover some costs and make the platform better.
